MILLIONS

May be Invested in Crittenden County Mineral Fields.

Reports coming from Crittenden county that Kentucky capital is in conjunction with men of large means from the East are forming a company to expend something like $1,000,000 in development of the lead and zinc mines of that county are, in seems, just a trifle premature. Among the men interested in the exploitation of the Crittenden county mineral deposits, is E. W. Smith of Owensboro, and he it is that is supposed to be the moving spirit in the new enterprise.

To a newspaper man Mr Smith stated that the Crittenden county reports were somewhat in advance of the real situation, but he did not deny that the scheme to organize a company representing millions of capital was on foot. His position was one of neutrality but he gave sufficient information regarding the field and its possibilities to indicate that intense interest is felt by certain capitalists in the matter of its development.

In the past two years or more considerable Owensboro capital has been invested in Crittenden county mineral holdings, and a number of men having money at command have quietly secured control of tracts of land in what is recognized to be a field that promises to yield rich returns. Of those interested probably none has more thoroughly investigated the chances of success than Mr.

Smith, and he has a fine understanding of the lead and zinc situation in Kentucky and Crittenden county in particular.

Mr. Smith is in a position to talk intelligently about the coming mining center. He is a firm believer in the future of the State as a producer of minerals, and he thinks certain sections of Kentucky will rival in richness and extent the famous Joplin district of Missouri, where the weekly crop of ores is valued at $1,000,000. There are vast differences, however, in the conditions which prevail in the two States, and while each has its advantages and disadvantages it is probable that the Bluegrass State will outstrip her hurling daughter in the production of lead and zinc, although getting such a late start.

One marked difference in physical conditions in the two districts is that the Missouri mineral deposits are found in "pockets," while the Crittenden county ores are found in what are technically termed "fissure veins." To the initiated the bald statement is sufficient to show that the investor of small means will never be a success in the Kentucky field, and that the poor man in the State who embarks in the mining ventures can not expect to be other than a wageworker. The glory and prosperity of the Joplin district, at least until conditions were changed by the influx of Eastern capital, was the opportunity that field afforded for the poor man, the prospector, to gain a competence if not a fortune by using the grub stake route.

The grub stake plan of development, that is to say where a man of means provided food, clothing, tools, primitive machinery and ammunition, while two or three practical miners contributed labor and brains to develop a leased property, thereafter sharing equally whatever ore might be found, can never prevail in the Kentucky field. This is for several reasons. In the Joplin district the ore is found at a depth of from ten to two hundred feet below the surface. It is reached through "easy" ground—ground in which the harder stone formations are scarce, and therefore making shaft sinking comparatively easy. In the Kentucky fields the ore is frequently at a depth shallower than 150 feet, and more than frequently the way is driven through rocks, the adamant nature of which would stop the most determined grub stake prospector. Hence the impossibility of developing the Kentucky field by the grub stake plan. The men who furnish grub stakes are usually merchants of small means, and the great cost of shaft sinking in this State would make it impossible for them to pay the bills.

In the fissure vein mining the rule of outcroppings is about the same as in the Joplin district, where the ore is found in pockets. An outcropping of ore may be depended upon to indicate the presence of the ore, but in the Mississippi State it means that ore is in close proximity: that the investment of a few dollars would bring the prospector to the ore body. In the fissure vein country this rule does not apply, and while the outcropping assures practically the presence of ore the ore may be hidden hundreds of feet away, involving thousands of dollars in reaching it.

However, fissure veins are lasting propositions. Once found they may be depended upon to furnish a steady output for years. In the pocket country the mine may exhaust itself within a week from the time it shows its most alluring face and pays the largest dividend. It may thus be seen that the poor man has no opportunity for individual effort in the Kentucky field. The wealth of mineral deposits must go to enrich the already rich. The laboring man can not hope to command the large sum necessary to be expended in developing the country where success depends upon the elusive hope of uncovering the rich fissure vein.

One advantage found in the fissure vein country is the absence of water. One shaft in Crittenden county, now sunk to a depth of 150 feet, contains so little underground flow it is easily controlled with a gasoline engine of but two horse power attached to a small pump. In a pocket country two and probably three ten-inch lift pumps, driven by mighty engines night and day, would be required to beat back the water in a shaft of like depth.

But the development of the Kentucky lead and zinc fields is coming. It will mean the addition of a vast force to the wealth producing power of the State and must eventually redound to the greatness of the Commonwealth. And when this development comes Owensboro people will be among those who reap the harvest.—Owensboro Inquirer.

The latest and best thing known in mineral circles is the great discovery of lead at the Ada-Florence, which belongs to the Louisville-Marion Mining Co. It is reported around that the largest vein of lead that has ever been struck in this district is in the bottom of the Ada-Florence shaft, the ore assaying 65 per cent galena. Mr. Whitehouse, Secretary and Treasurer of the company, came to Marion from Louisville about four months ago and visited all the mines in the district, in the company of a representative of a pump and machinery supply house. He asked a great many questions of the mine Superintendents as to the character of their ores, the width of veins, etc., supposedly to determine what kinds of machinery they would need; he acted very "green" around the mines and appeared not to know anything about a mine, except as to the machinery required in their operation. The next thing we heard of Mr. Whitehouse he "bobbed" up as the owner of a one-half interest in the Ada-Florence mine, which he had purchased from Messrs Persons and Gray while here, and he didn't have any machinery to sell, unless he bought it in himself.

The next "green looking fellow" to come along was Harry Watkins who bought Mr. George Gray's interest in the new company, consisting of 75 shares; he said at the time that it was probably not much good but thought he could risk the investment. This company's stock has jumped from about $25.00 to above par, with none offered.

It would appear that Messrs. Whitehouse and Watkins must have had an X-ray to enable them to see what was down there. Still waters run deep and likewise the combination of "Two Harry's."

Our New Salem correspondent sends the following items:

The mines on the Stevens farm closed down a few days last week on account of some of the machinery playing out. They opened up again Monday.

There were some good mining deals made in this section last week and some good property changed hands; we understand that some Louisville parties were the purchasers.

We hear the whistle of the Cullen mines, which makes four big mines now in operation.

At the mine of McFee & Dollar near Levia, on the LaRue vein, the shaft is down 40 feet and they have run a drift 32 feet and gone into the vein 6 feet, without reaching the wall rock. They feel much encouraged and have a right to feel so, as the prospects are very bright.

George Roberts has sold out his interest in the "Crittenden Mining Co." to F. Haag of Henderson. The owners of the stock are now all Henderson people, the Roberts' having both sold out all their interests.

Some very fine spar has been blasted out of the Charlie LaRue mine, near Levia.

BIG MONEY IN PEANUTS.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 1.—The Southern Peanut company, of this city, in experimenting with peanut raising in this county has discovered the soil to be adaptable. The production was 200 bushels to the acre and the quality was fine. Major J. W. Scott, of the Southern Peanut Company, says the peanuts will pay the farmers of Western Kentucky better than tobacco or cotton, the latter also being an experiment this year. He says the peanuts raised here are better than any raised in the country. The nuts are of finer quality and the quantity larger per acre than those raised in Virginia and Tennessee, the biggest peanut raising states in the country.

Peanuts raised on the Ezell place yielded $175 per acre, and hay is worth $40 per acre, making a total of $225 per acre. This year about 500 acres of goobers were raised in Western Kentucky in the counties of McCracken, Graves and Ballard. Next year Mr. Scott expects hundreds of acres to be sown. He furnishes the seed to any farmer desiring to plant them, and he has a great many calls for them.

Peanuts on a small scale have been raised by different parties in Crittenden county for years, and a lady of the county who has raised a few for her own use each year informs the PRESS they grow larger here and are of a finer flavor than any she ever ate. She prefers the red variety.

Old Kentucky Stood Bravely to Her Guns!

O. M. JAMES

Majority Between Eight and Ten Thousand--James Richardson Elected in the Third.

WE GET TEN OUT OF 11 CONGRESSMEN.

Kentucky Was the Only Democratic State in the Union to Increase Her Majority on the National Ticket.

Never in the history of the government has a greater surprise been sprung on the American people than was the overwhelming majority given Theodore Roosevelt for President on Tuesday last. He has received probably a greater plurality of the popular vote than has ever cast for a Presidential candidate and has a larger majority of the Electoral College than was ever given before.

In the Electoral College Roosevelt now has 325 votes and Parker 151, with 27 undecided.

It is estimated that Parker's majority in Kentucky will range between 15,000 and 20,000. The Democrats elect all the Congressmen save one. Richardson pulls through in the Third district by a narrow margin and Kehoe carries the Covington district by a small margin. Ollie James rolls up a majority of 8,000 to 10,000 in the grand Old Gibraltar, Swager Sherley snows Bill Owens under in the Louisville district by more than thirteen hundred majority.

This is the way in which Old Kentucky stood to her colors in spite of the landslide.

First District.

GRAVES COUNTY.

Mayfield, Ky., Nov. 8.—Returns from twenty-seven precincts of Graves county give for President, Parker, Democrat, 4,175; Roosevelt, Republican, 1,480; Watson, Populist, 83; Swallow, Prohibitionist, 40; for Congress, James Democrat, 4,220; Speight, Republican, 1,561. The unreported precincts give usually a Democratic majority of 500.

HICKMAN COUNTY.

Clinton, Ky., Nov. 8.—Eleven precincts out of twelve in Hickman county give Parker 1,691, Roosevelt 626, James 1,680, Speight 614. County also votes strongly against no fence law. Missing precincts will reduce Parker's majority to 1,000 or near that figure. In 1900, county gave Bryan 1,875, McKinley 392.

TRIGG COUNTY.

Cadiz, Ky., Nov. 8.—Eight precincts out of sixteen in Trigg county gave Parker for President, 125 plurality, and James, Dem., for Congress, 100 plurality. Of the eight missing precincts six usually give Republican majorities, and it is believed the Republicans have carried the county by a plurality of about 25.

CARLISLE COUNTY.

Bardwell, Ky., Nov. 8.—Returns from six precincts of Carlisle county give for President, Democrat 1,144, Republican 260, Populist 42, Prohibition 15; for Congress, Democrat 1,126, Republican 242. The unreported precincts give usually a Democratic majority of 200.

LYON COUNTY.

Kuttawa, Ky., Nov. 8.—With one precinct missing Lyon county gives for President: Parker, 704; Roosevelt, 627; Watson, 55; Swallow, 30. For Congress: James Dem., 706; Speight, Rep., 627. The missing precincts usually give a Democratic plurality of 100.

MCCRACKEN COUNTY.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 8.—All precincts in Paducah give Parker 1,676, Roosevelt 1,757. The city ticket, four Aldermen, six Councilmen, six School Trustees, was carried by the Republicans by 80 majority. It is estimated that Parker carried the county by 400 majority.

CALDWELL COUNTY.

Princeton, Ky., Nov. 8.—Returns from ten precincts of Caldwell county show a plurality of 193 for Roosevelt for President, and of 196 for Speight for Congress. The unreported precincts give usually a Democratic plurality of 70.

MARSHALL COUNTY.

Benton, Ky., Nov. 8.—Returns from twelve precincts of Marshall county give for President, Parker, 1,313; Roosevelt, 820. The unreported precincts give usually a Democratic majority of 200.

LIVINGSTON COUNTY.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 8.—Returns from all precincts in Livingston county for President give the Democrats 1,258, Republicans 829.

Adjoining Counties.

HENDERSON COUNTY.

Henderson, Ky., Nov. 8.—Returns from thirty precincts of Henderson county give for President: Parker 3,375, Roosevelt 2,083, Watson 23, Swallow 83. For Congress, Stanley, Dem., 3,239, Overby, Rep., 2,082. The one missing precinct usually gives a Republican plurality of 125.

HOPKINS COUNTY.

Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 8.—Returns from twenty-six precincts of Hopkins county complete show a majority of 319 for Parker for President and 318 for A. O. Stanley for Congress.

UNION COUNTY.

Morganfield, Ky., Nov. 8.—Complete returns from Union county give for President—Democrat, 2,556; Republican, 1,043. The nominees for Congress received the same vote.

WEBSTER COUNTY.

Dixie, Ky., Nov. 8.—Returns from all precincts of Webster county show a majority of 689 for Parker for President, and 689 for Stanley for Congress.

There were several close races for Congress, but the Democrats seem to have lost only the Eleventh district.

The Kentucky delegation as elected to Congress is as follows:

First District—Ollie M. James, Democrat. Plurality of 5,342 in 126 precincts out of 198. The 72 missing precincts are in counties that are usually Democratic.

Second District—A. O. Stanley, Democrat. Plurality of 4,133 in 172 precincts out of 178. Of the six missing precincts, four are in Democratic counties and two in Republican.

Third District—James M. Richardson, Democrat, by 379 majority. Plurality of 329, with five missing precincts in Warren county.

Fourth District—David H. Smith, Democrat. Plurality of 2,896 in 185 precincts out of 196. The eleven missing precincts are in Republican counties.

Fifth District—Swager Sher-

WINS HIS SECOND TERM.

CONGRESSMAN O. M. JAMES.

ley, Democrat, by 1,373 majority, all precincts reported.

Sixth District—Joseph L. Rhinock, Democrat. Plurality of 2,516 in 141 precincts out of 178. The 37 missing precincts are in Kenton and Campbell counties, which went largely Republican. The estimated Republican majority in the 37 precincts is 960, which would reduce Rhinock's majority to about 1,600.

Seventh District—South Trimble, Democrat. Plurality of 7,356, with two missing precincts in Franklin county.

Eighth District—G. G. Gilbert, Democrat. Plurality of 2,272, with four missing precincts in Democratic counties.

Ninth District—James N. Kehoe, Democrat. Plurality of 684 in 169 precincts out of 192. Of the twenty-four missing precincts fourteen are in Republican counties, and ten in Democratic.

Tenth District—Frank N. Hopkins, Democrat. Plurality of 1,952, with seventy-four missing precincts, of which forty-five are in Republican and twenty-nine in Democratic counties.

Eleventh District—D. C. Edwards, Republican. Plurality of 7,332, with 118 precincts missing out of a total of 244, all in Republican counties.

The three States to which most attention was given by both parties were New York, Indiana, and West Virginia. Of these New York gives Roosevelt an estimated plurality of 185,000 and Indiana gives him probably 50,000 plurality, with West Virginia in doubt.

Illinois is claimed by the Republicans by a majority of 150,000. The great Republican gains come from the city of Chicago, in which city Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist candidate, polled 50,000 votes.

The Democrats claim the election of Folk for Governor in Missouri by 40,000 majority, and the National ticket is not far behind that. The city of St. Louis is said to be Democratic by a small majority.

Roosevelt carries New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts by large majorities; but in the latter State W. L. Douglass, the shoe manufacturer, was elected Governor by the Democrats by 25,000 majority.

Wisconsin went Republican by 50,000.

Indiana's plurality for Roosevelt may reach 60,000.

Ohio rolled up the enormous plurality of 113,000 for the Republican ticket.

Pennsylvania goes Republican by 300,000.

The Republicans will have a majority of about 40 in the lower branch of congress, thus insuring their control of that body.

Early in the evening Judge Parker sent the following dispatch to President Roosevelt, which the President acknowledged:

Rosemount, Esopus, N. Y., 8:30 p. m.—The President, Washington: The people, by their votes, have emphatically approved your administration and I congratulate you.

Alton B. Parker.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Republican National ticket has been elected by a vote in the electoral college that will exceed that of 292 given for McKinley in 1900. The result of today's balloting was astounding even to the most sanguine of the Republican managers. Confident as they were of success, they were not prepared for the astonishing figures which followed the closing of the polls, bringing into the Republican column not only all or those States they had claimed as safe for their candidates, but with the possible exception of Maryland, every State classed as doubtful.

Democratic successes are confined to the solid South in which Kentucky is included, and Mr. Parker has not carried a single State which did not give its vote to Mr. Bryan four years ago. Unofficial returns indicate that he has lost some of those which the Nebraska candidate held for his party. Official figures from some of the Northwestern States may slightly change the totals, but based on the returns available at a late hour tonight the electoral vote stands as follows: Roosevelt 307; Parker, 151; doubtful, 18.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt tonight, after the election returns clearly indicated the result, issued the following statement:

"I am deeply sensible for the honor done me by the American people, thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and one half years, and these three and one half years constitute my first term. The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form. Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

Mr. Wm. H. Temme, the civil and mining engineer, who is interested in mining and landed estate in this county, was re-elected surveyor of Vanderburg county at Evansville, Ind., Tuesday. The Press is glad to see Mr. Temme thus honored. The office is an important and responsible one.

The proposition to float bonds to build a waterworks in the town of Madisonville was lost.

Negroes Fight.

Len Merriweather and Elzy Clement, both colored, engaged a fistfight Monday night on Main street, which resulted in Clement being pretty badly used up. Marshal Canaan took them to the county jail and delivered them to Jailer Travis. The police court fined each with the usual trimmings.

Horrible Death.

Clinton, Ind., Nov. 8.—In a collision between a work train and a freight train here today, two of the workmen were killed and many injured. A car on which 27 workmen were riding was overturned and demolished, and the bodies of several men were horribly mangled.

possibility that there might have been some misunderstanding of signals during the trawler incident, in the North sea, is suggested by a fact made public in an order of the day issued by Vice Admiral Chouknin, which records the fact that officers of the latter fleet are so unfamiliar with the new code system adopted by the Admiralty that during the recent maneuvers not a single ship under stood or obeyed the Admiral's sig-

BOB TAYLOR

Turned Down in Louisville Because of Marriage Record.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 1.—The Times says: Because they disapprove of his matrimonial record the members of the Young Ladies' Society of the McFerran Memorial Baptist church declined to negotiate with former Gov. Bob Taylor, who, through his agents, made a proposition to lecture in Louisville. The proposition was received by the Rev. Dr. William Wister Hamilton, pastor of the church. The lecturer offered to appear for a guarantee of $250 or for 70 per cent of receipts. Dr. Hamilton turned the matter over to the Young Ladies' Missionary Society Sunday morning, and the society held a meeting at the conclusion of the morning services. The meeting was brief, resulting in a prompt refusal to contract for a lecture. "We need the money and this would be an easy way to get it, but we don't approve of Gov. Taylor's marriage record and we will not accept his offer," was the unanimous expression of the young ladies.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.

Be sure this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Gov. Taylor was divorced a short time ago and after a couple of weeks of "single blessedness" took to himself another wife.

The developments were too rapid, in the opinion of many orthodox church people.

Thousands Cured.

DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has cured thousands of cases of Piles. "I bought a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve on recommendation of our druggist," so writes C. H. LaCroix, of Zavalla, Tex. "and used it for a stubborn case of Piles. It cured me permanently." Sold by Woods & Orme, Druggists.

NOTHING WITHOUT LABOR.

Success in life depends almost entirely on indefatigable and systematic labor. No one has attained wealth or fame by sitting down and waiting for it to come. Constant and systematic attention to business usually brings success. A certain advertising agency has the motto "Keeping everlastingly at it brings success." This is terse and truthful. Hard work is good for a man, especially a young man. Progress is impossible without industry. Practical industry will bring out a man's individual character and at the same time will stimulate and others. A lazy man or an idle man. Regular employment is necessary for a man's mental and physical health.

If a man labors cheerily with faith in the outcome he will be happy and probably healthy. Sometimes industrious ambitious men worry over the results. They are afraid their labor will not be properly rewarded or appreciated. This is because of a lack of faith. Oliver Cromwell said "Have faith in God and keep your powder dry." The man who trusts in God and the same time does his part is not apt to kill himself by worrying over results. Constant labor with faith in results makes a successful life.

Only Makes a Bad Matter Worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by lack of water in the system, and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect, and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c bottle of them. Sold by Woods & Orme Druggists.

The American Cow.

The American cow is an institution of large dimensions. She produces annually 8,000,000,000 gallons of milk, 1,500,000 pounds of butter, and 300,000,000 pounds of cheese, not to mention hides, leather, glue, hair, horn and other by-products. Her total dairy crop is worth over $200,000,000 a year. And yet many people find that a cow eats her head off as fast as it put on. We would like to see a table setting up the expense of the great American cow. Then we could tell how much of that $200,000,000 is profit.

MAYOR J. H. POWELL.

By authority vested in me, as Mayor of an unpretentious little city, I do thus publicly proclaim:

Whereas, in accordance with Christian custom, Thursday Nov. 24, 1904, hath been set apart as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. I do beseech saints and sinners to go to church and be good. Whether chanting hymns, shooting quail or sipping delicious poison from the eyes of Beauty, "keep innocence, and take heed unto the thing that is right, for that shall bring a man peace at the last." Let us be thankful that our Colonels are not so full of corn, as our corn is full of kernels.

Though the surrounding soil, tickled with a hoe, is laughing with a harvest, poor folks are still with us. From their soup and cold potatoes, good Lord deliver them.

Oh, Christian men and women, astonish the stomach of the starving sufferers with oysters, turkey and mince pie. Adorn the ragged pauper with comfortable clothing. An ounce of practice is worth a pound of preaching. Dearly beloved, let us play upon a harp of a thousand strings, a new song of praise. Give thanks to the Lord for the most charming crop of beautiful babes ever born in the old town, since creation dawned, and the morning stars sang together. Sweet dainty darlings smile on, like sunbeams in shady places; kick up your little heels and make of earth a heaven.

With charity unto all and malice toward none, I do hereunto subscribe my official signature to the words that have been written this 3rd of November, 1904.

J. H. POWELL,

Mayor of Henderson, Ky.

Mothers Praise It.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure of coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, Postmaster of Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it too highly." One Minute Cough Cure relieves coughs, makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, draws out inflammation, and removes every cause of a cough and strain on lungs. Sold by Woods & Orme, Druggists.

Pastor's Sunday School Institute, the Greatest Sunday School Meeting Of the Year.

The Third Pastors' Sunday School Institute of Kentucky under the auspices of the Kentucky Sunday School Association will be held at Louisville in the First Presbyterian Church, December 5 to 9, in connection with the Annual Sunday School Lectures at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. Dr. A. H. McKimney, of New York City, one of the most prominent Sunday school lecturers and authors of the East, delivers the lectures before the Seminary. He will also take a prominent part in the Institute. All in attendance at the Institute will get the benefit of these lectures. The faculty of the Institute this year will consist of four of the most noted Sunday School experts in America. In addition to Dr. McKimney there will be Mr. Marion Lawrence, International General Secretary and the leader of the Sunday school forces of the world; Dr. H. M. Hamill, of Nashville, Tenn., the recognized authority on Teacher Training in the world; Dr. Chas. Roads, of Philadelphia, formerly General Secretary of New York State and now at the head of the Sunday school work of the Sunday School Work of the M. E. Church. An exceedingly strong program has been arranged.

Our Pastors' Institute is now one of the most notable institutions in America. Enquiries about it are coming to us continually even from over the sea.

It hoped that the pastors of Kentucky will appreciate this effort to improve the Sunday schools of the State. All pastors will be entertained. For full program and other particulars address E. A. Fox, 19 Louisville Trust Building, Louisville, Ky.

Disastrous Wrecks

Carelessness is responsible for many railway wrecks and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. OUR OBJECT IS TO SAVE MONEY!

Our aim is constantly toward the the mark of public patronage. We never follow the leaders but lead the followers, and it is not a matter of conjecture but of fact, that everything purchased or us carries with it, that indispensable quality of satisfaction. Nothing is more satisfactory than buying satisfaction—a fact we considered when placing orders for our fall and winter trade, and here you find it. We anticipated necessities and bought accordingly with the result that we are enabled to offer special inducements in every department. If it's worthy it's here, and if it's here it's worthy at a price which will not fail to convince you that it's just what you want, at just the price you want to pay for it. It's simply a question of economy for you.

Once more the Democratic banner is trailing in the dust. Once more her gallant cohorts have gone down in defeat. And this renewed disaster did not come upon us gently, grudgingly, but strenuously, overwhelmingly. Yet to say that the party were not prepared for this result would be to state an untruth. In the breast of every thinking Democrat there has been ever present a shadowy fear that what has happened would happen, and hence they take their defeat philosophically and in good humor, which is the wisest thing they could do.

It is useless now to argue from cause to effect. Evidently the winning factors in this campaign have been the full dinner pail, an unlimited supply of the sinews of war by our adversaries, and a fear to have the business interests of the country disarranged by a change of policy at the hands of a new Administration.

We have heard it suggested that both the Philippines and the Panama Canal were weak issues, and that the introduction of personalities at the latter end of the campaign was ill advised.

The Republican majority in Crittenden county was phenomenal, and the PRESS accounts for it in the fact that the Democrats did nothing to cut down the natural Republican vote. Not a Democratic speech was made in Crittenden county, not a club was organized and not a rally was had. Work and thought and keeping everlastingly at it brings results. If we want success we must work for it, then we will deserve and win it.

The one small rift in the clouds—the one bright ray amid the general gloom—is the gallant manner in which Old Kentucky stood to her guns, "amid the wreck of matter and the crush of worlds," giving Parker and Davis about double the majority she gave W. J. Bryan four years ago, Brave old girl!

By following strictly the line of "business politics" laid down eight

The St. Louis Republic says editorially—and the PRESS endorses every word of it—

"In large part to Democratic indifference must be set down the vast reverse of Tuesday. A Democratic defeat it was, but not altogether a Republican victory. In Missouri and the West there was little or no increase of Republican votes but a great falling off in the Democratic vote. Democrats did not go to the polls.

Democratic apathy is referable to several patent causes. It is an unquestionable fact that Judge Parker, however his character and abilities deserved respect and support, lacked the personal appeal to the voter which experience shows plays so large a part in American politics. Democracy was unprepared for Parker as its nominee, and the St. Louis Convention introduced to the voters a man with whom they must get acquainted. The incidents of his nomination did not help to win such States as Missouri, Indiana and Illinois. That the Western Democracy was not thoroughly united on the National ticket was natural and to have been expected.

The temporary structure of Democracy has been swept away, but the massive solidity of its foundations remains undisturbed. The real strength of the party is not shaken. The deeper Democratic sentiment of the country is not affected—under existing conditions Democrats did not listen to the appeal to those fundamental convictions and profounder sympathies which render this country essentially and reliably Democratic in crises. Democracy thus has not suffered a vital disaster, but a temporary reverse. Its potential strength was not involved in this test. The same fidelity exists today in the nation that has always existed for the principles of Jefferson. The reversal chargeable to apathy under agreeable material conditions comprehends no deeper causes and cannot under any circumstances be laid to disloyalty to the fundamental doctrines upon which our institutions rest, and which it is the mission of Democracy to preserve and perpetuate. Democracy must now solidify its strength and proceed, under the leadership of wisdom and caution, to grapple with a new condition.

years ago by your "Uncle Marcus" Chairman Corteyou has swept the platter clean.

Well, we got our Ollie in out of the wet before the flood came and that ought to be glory enough for one day.

A pertinent question just now is, "Who elected Roosevelt President, the Republicans or the Democrats?"

And Judge Parker also ran.

WHAT MURPHY SAYS.

New York, Nov. 8.—It was a very depressed crowd at Tammany Hall tonight. Mr. Murphy came in a short time after the polls closed. After it was evident there had been a landslide in New York and throughout the country for the Republican ticket he gave out this statement:

"Of course I am very much surprised at the result. I do not attempt to account for it. Whatever may have been the cause will develop and the party can then deal with it.

"I sincerely regret the defeat of Judge Parker. He was in all respects a worthy candidate. As much can be said for Judge Herick.

"They were undoubtedly the choice of the Democracy, and their defeat is to be regretted more for the sake of the party and for the country than for the candidates individually."

Missouri Doubtful.

St. Louis, Nov. 9.—Slow progress has been made toward an accurate count of Missouri's vote, but partial returns up to noon today showed remarkable Republican gains in St. Louis and almost throughout the state. In many counties the usual Democratic plurality was cut in half. The Post-Dispatch (Ind-Dem.) at that hour inclined largely toward the conviction that Roosevelt had carried Missouri, and the Republican State Committee insisted that final figures would show a Republican majority of 20,000 on the national ticket.

That Joseph W. Folk Democrat, has carried the state for Governor, was the claim made generally, but figures on the State result were lacking. The Democratic State Committee asserted that Folk will show a majority of 30,000.

Complete returns show that St. Louis has gone Republican with the exception that the rallied for Joseph W. Folk, Democrat, with a plurality of over 10,000. With all the Democratic municipal candidates save one defeated by pluralities ranging from 500 to 3,000, Folk carried St. Louis over Cyrus P. Walbridge by a plurality of 10,088.

SHE WAS TOO YOUNG.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 8.—A bride of 13 would have been Edma McGowan, a beautiful little girl, looking not more than 12, if county clerk James and the law had been willing to grant her a license. She came before the county clerk today with a flush on her childish face, her innocent eyes big and dark, ringlets falling about her shoulders, dressed in short school girl attire. There was in her a promise of great beauty when she should become a woman. Her extreme youth filled the clerk in the office with indignation when it was learned that the young man with her desired a license to wed her.

The young man was a decided blonde, and gave his age as 25 and his name as Ralph Dawson. He had come earlier in the day, expecting to obtain the license, and became abusive when he was told he must bring the girl with him.

They exhibited a statement signed by the mother before a notary public, but it appeared that the father had not given his full consent, and there was speculation as to whether he was asleep or only in ignorance when the permit took place.

It was explained to the groom that even with the parents' consent the girl would have to be 16 to obtain a license. It is said that later they claimed that she was older, but the first statement, that she would not be 14 until Christmas was not to be disbelieved after she had once been seen.

Hodge was educated here and lived here many years after his marriage and his friends will be indeed glad to know of his success.

REFUSED THE HONOR.

It seems that carnivals and street fairs are rapidly falling into disrepute. In the past it has been deemed quite an honor for a young lady to get the place of "Queen of the Carnival." Now it is different. The honor, if it can be deemed such, was extended to twelve different girls at Mayfield, and they all refused with scornful thanks. Commenting upon their action the Rives Tenn. News says:

"Mayfield has been preparing for a street carnival of some kind. It was decided to take a vote of the people to decide what young lady would be chosen and crowned as 'Queen of the Carnival,' when lo! and behold, twelve beautiful young ladies spurned the empty and questionable honor of being crowned queen of a street fair. Hurrah for the intelligence and refinement of Kentucky's beauty! Mayfield would certainly be the place for men to go to hunt for real American queens for wives."

Mayfield Monitor says:
"For years we have recognized the fact that our girls and young ladies were true American queens, and to receive this commendatory notice from a recent recruit from the ranks of bachelorhood to those of a benedict only increases our belief."

HOW HE GOT THERE

DOUGLAS must have worn RUBBER HEELS when he crept up on the Republicans in Massachusetts. Anyway, he helped his party to win a victory at LAST. STRAIGHT-LACED Bostonians gave him a TIP that he would not be admitted to the UPPER councils of state, but he kept PEGGING away and made his fight on the SOLE issue of a REVAMPED tariff policy, and his cause WAXED strong toward the end of the campaign. It was a SHOO-IN for DOUGLAS.

BIG FAIR TO CLOSE.

A formal representation was made by exhibitors suggesting the continuance of the Exposition another year. The Executive committee unanimously decided that it was impracticable and decided that the fair be closed Dec 1.

PROF. CHAS. LANE

Will Lecture at the Marion Opera House Saturday Night.

Prof. Chas. Lane will deliver one of his inimitable humorous lectures here at the Opera House Saturday night. While his lectures are made up largely of anecdotes, and bubble over with humor from beginning to end, yet at the same time they scintillate with beautiful thoughts, glowing truths, and nuggets of wisdom. While he amuses he furnishes much wholesome food for earnest thought and reflection.

He has an inexhaustible fund of stories, most of them illustrating types of Georgia life, which he tells as no other man on earth could tell them. You laugh, you cry, you laugh again. You think, you resolve; as you leave the lecture the world looks brighter than ever before, and you go out into it to do better work. Seats on sale at Gilberts & Hicklins grocery.

LETTER FROM MISSOURI.

Sikeston, Mo., Nov. 9, 1904.

Mr. Editor, if you will allow me space in your paper I will drop a few lines to your many readers.

Missouri is a fine farming country as far as I have been able to see. It is a fine farming country; the wheat is fine for the time of year; corn is running from 40 to 95 bushels per acre. The people seem to be kind hearted but most of them are rough, much more so than the people of dear old Kentucky, especially my native country—Crittenden. We don't have any church in my neighborhood; the people hunt, fish, drive stock and do their moving on Sunday, so you can guess about the religious influences. I am looking, hoping, and earnestly praying for better times in my neighborhood, and I will ask all praying readers of the Press to remember us in their devotion to God. We will try to organize a Sunday school in the spring. There are lots of children from ten to fifteen that were never in a Sunday school or church in their lives. If we can work up interest enough to get the people to go we can have a good school. We are spending our Sundays reading the Bible, good papers, and praying for better times. The election is on and I regret very much that I could not vote, as I have not been here long enough; so the Prohibition party lost one vote. I wish the best results to the party. Good people should vote as they pray. Good bless the Press and its readers is the wish of your friend.

My Western Trip Continued.

BY J. FRANK LOYD.

Ed Press: For fear my other letter would consume too much space in your valuable paper, I did not tell your readers of my days I spent among the different tribes of Indians, learning their ways and customs of living, etc., and the grand scenes on the western prairies.

Five years ago I spent two months among the Ponca, Osage, Chickasaw and Choctaws. This trip, including the above with other trips, and found all interesting. When I reached Ponca, I T. visited my cousin, who like many others, has made his fortune in the west. But poor fellow, when I arrived at his home he recognized me and when he held out his hand to give me a welcome hand shake, I saw the tears gushing from his eyes, and his voice trembled with sadness. I at once realized that some great calamity had befallen him, and we had scarcely entered his beautiful parlor before he commenced telling me his troubles. He had only two children, his favorite, a bright boy of nineteen years, who he almost idolized, while under a surgical operation, had died in a northern city, and his remains were brought back and laid away in the new cemetery west of Ponca.

The next day I visited the cemetery where the dear boy had been laid to rest. The burial ground was one of the objects of interest. Many of the graves were marked only by one unbroken cluster of beautiful flowers so trimmed and arranged as to form the shape of a monumental mound. The avenues were like those in many gardens, lined on both sides with hedges of sweet roses. But it was with an emotion of deep sadness which awoke as I walked along the flowery paths of this lovely cemetery and thought of the day before I left my Kentucky home for my distant wanderings, when I stood at my mother's grave at Chapel Hill cemetery and viewed her last resting place. Who can tell the hallowedness of a mother's love until he feels its absence? Who ever shed a holier tear than falls upon a mother's grave? We all in this life of change, have our private sorrows and tearful remembrances, which the associations of place or time or circumstances bring up the mind's review and readjusts the heart. As I walked among these graves my thought took its course with reference to my own kindred dead. I envied not the man who can walk through a graveyard with a bosom that knows no sigh, and with a heart that never declares its emotion by the tribute of a tear.

Mounting my wheel I rode two miles west and visited the Ponca Indian cemetery. Each Indian tribe have their custom of putting away their dead. The Ponca build a house about eight by ten feet and when one dies they put the body in a box and place all their jewelry, fire arms, etc., around the corpse for them to use when they reach "the happy hunting ground." If it is a child, they will often fold them up in a trunk and place their play things around them and lock the trunk. Now I would see six or eight of these boxes and trunks in one of these houses on top of the ground, the air being so dry and pure the body would not decay, but dry up. On my first visit to this cemetery a number of the houses had fallen down and the boxes were burst open and I saw a great many bodies that had been dead for ten years, and had I known them in life I believe I have recognized them. This cemetery being on a high mound I could look over the Indian Nation and see a great many tepees. The government built each family a frame house to live in but they preferred living in their tepees. As the weather was warm I began to get thirsty, I decided to go down and spend the rest of the day with the Indians. I now took a view from that high mound over the beautiful prairie as far as my eyes would serve me. I could see thousands of acres of wheat rolling like waves on the ocean, and to one being raised in a hilly country, like myself, this scene could not be described by pen. There are many other objects of interests which attract the gaze, and after continual subjects to amuse and delight the fancy of a stranger, and awaken the emotion of the beautiful, in the bosom of the lover of nature. As I sat on the crest of that Indian cemetery I looked toward the clouds and saw them in thousands of forms and changes and picturesque groupings of castle and turret and falling ruins, and caveacade and infantry in elementary war; and in the calm of succeeding truce, and the serene of final peace. And then then the expanses, like ocean plains in the ever changing skies often lay before me in their green or blue, saffron of gold, with the soft clouds drifting slowly over the bosom of the rich prairie like so many floating islands prepared for the spirit of the blest in their circuit of the universe and of fade less happiness of years.

After viewing the scene I mounted my wheel, going south among the tepees, stopping at one. I found the family all at home, consisting of five in number—the old back, his square, two grown daughters and a son. The youngsters had been attending the high Indian school at Chillicothe, near the Kansas line, but were home on their vacation. When I reached the tepee the youngsters came out to welcome me before I reached the entrance, and the old back rose from his couch and placed me near him with a graceful and cordial hand shake. I had no sooner displaced my hat than one of the girls in her beautiful and artless simplicity, seized a fan and swept it before me, bearing by the graceful current of cooling air. In a few minutes "Red Hat" the boy, brought in a pail of water and desired me to partake, of which I did with pleasure; then "Red Rose," the youngest daughter, approached her sister, who was using the fan, and with consideration earnestness, desired to relieve her. But the first had secured the honor of this showing a courteous attention to a guest, and insisted upon her privilege of continuing to perform her part in the civilities and simple hospitality of the artless and handsome Indians. The three youngsters had a smiling countenance which was the beautiful smile of artless nature. With smooth features, thin lips, white teeth, dark amber skin and jet hair falling in long rolls behind their. Each one was doing what they thought to be most agreeable to their guest, but all were ready to spring on any errand for the same purpose. I found the three youngsters to be well educated and conversant in English. I was amused at the old lady, as she sat on her buffalo rug gazing at my bicycle she raised up and said, "white man boy, set down and walk." I am not astonished at the Indians of ancient times becoming astrologers, readers and worshippers of the stars when his home is so constructed as to catch the smiles of the heavenly goddesses, so graciously contemplating their worshipers, and holding their night vigils above his sleeping couch. I have spent several days among these Indians and watched them cook their meals swinging their pot about six inches above the ground on a hook with fire under it, they proceed to put all their food in one pot and cook it like our dish we call hash. Dog is a favorite meat. I always made some excuse for not dining with some of them; for should you eat with them and refuse to eat dog they become offended and say, "Dog don't eat dog."

Each tribe of Indians have their own language, and only learn the English language. Some of the Indian languages are hard to learn, and as far as I know, have never had any original set of characters to designate their elementary sounds of speech. Their words, nouns and verbs, are without inflections, and therefore a grammar of their language would be hard to form. I now parted with no little interest from my new made friends, and returned to the high mound I had but a few hours ago visited. I sat down to take another view of that beautiful land. No breeze was stirring at this soft hour, and all was still, save the zephyr that rustled the tall wheat that covered thousands of acres before me. As I looked over the country, I said, "Oh, land! beautiful land of the west, I have spent many years of the past among the mountainous country of the east, while you belonged to the Red man of the west." I thought no scene in the west could exceed that beautiful scene.

It was getting late in the evening and the clouds had been floating on their way, and were now packing themselves up in the south and west, leaving vacant fields in the sky, deep and vast, where they seemed to have laid off the beautiful spaces, as if they had thought on this night, as the hour for making the greatest display of their magnificence and loveliness.

The sun was sinking his veiled disk beneath the western rim of the green prairie, and sent back upon the clouds his beams, in his greatest beauty. One long cloud stretched itself in a horizontal line midway in the scene, dark, low and long, and above and below, were oblique layers so conveying on the green background of the sky, as to exhibit the appearance of an undulating sea a paling green, sending back from its unbroken and mirroring surface a sheet of light in delicate and softest beauty. Not the gossamer zone of lady ever planted so lightly as here on these waved and elongated curls of fleecy vapors, in their different hues of lightest pink and blue while the heavier layers of clouds filed themselves in strata upon strata, and all were illuminated with every tint of mingling scarlet and deepest Indian red, such as painters might wish to give the highest coloring to the check.

I again mounted my wheel going back to Ponca, saying, "Oh, nature, beautiful nature, how could I keep from loving thee." When I reached main street I stopped and gazed at the passersby on this princely street, at this hour seemed animated with the equipages of the young and old, who had been out on their pleasure drives, now returning to their several homes ere the nightfall gathered over them. I then proceeded to my kinsman's house, at the hour when night is soon to wrap all alike in her deep, and dark mantle of shadow and forgetfulness.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure, suitable for old and young, I put you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy seat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Woods & Orme Druggists.

WOODS & ORME'S UNUSUAL OFFER

Sell Dr. Howard's Specific at Half-Price, and Guarantee a Cure.

"It isn't often that we have faith enough in the medicine put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure," said Woods & Orme to a Press reporter who dropped into their store, but we are glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that basis.

"The Dr. Howard company in order to get a quick introduction sale, authorizes us to sell their regular fifty-cent bottles at half-price, 25 cents, and, although we have sold a lot of it, and have guaranteed every package, not one has brought back as unsatisfactory.

"One great advantage of this specific," he continued, "is its small dose and convenient form. There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

"We are still selling the specific at half-price, although we cannot tell how long we shall be able to do so, and any one who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion, or a general played-out condition ought to take advantage of this chance. You can tell your readers that if they are not satisfied with the specific they can come right back to our store and we will cheerfully refund their money."

A Good Trade

I have a 35 bbl. flooring mill with good cornmeal rig attached. I have been running my mill about five weeks. It makes the best of flour and meal I have already worked up a good trade. The mill is located on the I. C. rail road. The location is a good one in every respect. I will trade one half interest for good farming land or sell one half interest unreasonably cheap for cash. My reasons for selling is I want help to run my business, and money to carry on same. W. T. Drury, Blackford, Ky.

Conflict and Victory.

Only He who is my Savior
Only He can understand,
All the trials that beset me,
Traveling through this hostile land;
But He's promised to defend me,
To go with me all the way,
To stand by until the darkness
Merges into perfect day.
Of the conflict seems against me,
Dark the skies were all around,
And my feeble faith seems warring
Till I hear the clarion sound—
"Look up—lift up, I am with thee—
Sure the Lord doth understand—
For my grace is all sufficient,
Trust in my all guiding hand."
Thus above life's noise and tumult,
Comes God's peace within my heart
And my worried soul is strengthened
By His grace to do my part.
So I'll praise Him now and ever,
As I travel on my way,
For the love through Jesus given,
Leading unto perfect day.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. POWERS OF FISCAL COURT.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 4.—In reversing a judgment of the Boyd circuit court in a case of Boyd county against Jack Arthur, and others, the Appellate court today ruled that the Fiscal Court is without authority to authorize its members to serve as supervisors of roads for county and can not be paid for such work. It further holds that the statute contemplating the appointment of but one supervisor of roads by the fiscal court, and not one for each magisterial district, and that the fiscal court has no authority to allow its members any other compensation than that fixed by law. It also holds that where the Prosecuting Attorney refuses to prosecute an appeal the County Judge may do so.

TREATY WITH GERMANY.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Negotiations have been initiated for a treaty of arbitration between Germany and the United States. Several days ago President Roosevelt suggested to Baron Sternberg, the German Ambassador, that a treaty of arbitration between the United States and Germany would, in his judgment, be very desirable. Ambassador Sternberg coincided with this view, and told the President that he would inquire of his government what steps, if any, it desired to take in the matter. Late this afternoon Ambassador Sternberg called upon President Roosevelt and informed him that the German Government had expressed itself as entirely agreeable to the President's proposition and that he had been directed to open formal negotiations for such a treaty. These negotiations will be conducted by Ambassador Sternberg on the part of Germany and Secretary Hay on the part of the United States.

Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder is a wonderful remedy, a prescription used for over fifty years by an eminent German physician in his practice both in Europe and in his country and sold by thousands of druggists all over the world. So mildly natural are the effects of this remedy that all Kidney and Liver troubles give way to perfect health. It cures the worst cases and many have been cured who had tried every known remedy.

Symptoms of Liver Complaint: Dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism, gout, skin eruptions, sallowness, constipation, dizziness, vertigo, headache, piles, pain in the back, melancholy, bad breath, furry tongue, horrid taste, unpleasant dreams, insomnia, undue sleepiness, nausea, flatulence, swelling of the abdomen, colicky condition of the bowels, pain and soreness in the stomach, liver spots on the skin, loss of memory, impaired vitality, dire forebodings, lack of energy, indigestion, crankiness, blood poisoning, nervousness, falling hair—oh, there are lots of them and each one emphasizes the importance of having Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder constantly within reach. It is the right thing in the right time, sure and certain in effect, pleasant and perfect in action.

For your own sake, don't neglect any of the symptoms of liver disorder or the complaint will become chronic and the ultimate, after untold suffering, is Death.

Woods & Orme can tell you all about Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder; it has cured many of their customers who are recommending it to their friends.

Better than testimonials in the guarantee under which Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder is sold. It does not relieve and cure you it will cost you nothing, so go at once and procure the remedy and take along this guarantee.

INSTALLATION SERVICES.

Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D., who has recently been recalled to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church, was installed Wednesday evening. The installation sermon was preached by Rev. S. J. Martin of Marion, and the charge to the pastor was delivered by Rev. V. P. Morrill of Princeton.

The services were very impressive and at the close the members of the congregation welcomed their beloved pastor into his place again in a feeling manner.—Paducah News-Democrat.

A life saved by FOERG'S REMEDY

the great blood purifier

Read this grateful letter from a prominent Kentuckian

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 4th, 1903.
I wish to state for the Foerg Remedy Co., of Evansville, Ind., that I believe their great Remedy, known as Foerg's Remedy, the great blood purifier, saved my brother's life some ten years ago. He was troubled with a blood disease, and it seemed he could get no relief until he took Foerg's Remedy same as manufactured by this company. After taking five bottles he was entirely relieved of his trouble, and when he died one five years ago he was entirely well of that disease. I also took two bottles as a blood purifier and was much benefited.

(Signed) C. H. LEWIS, Princeton, Ky.

People do not become interested in these subjects until failing health or a distressing outbreak of the skin reminds them sharply of their ignorance. Is it any wonder then that so many become the easy prey of vipers both inside and outside the medical fraternity, and too often find a tragically early grave, where a little common sense knowledge would have shown them the ways of recovery and spared their lives. Know thyself!

AND HERE'S THE REMEDY

Forewarned is forearmed—let this warning sink deep in—obtain from us or from your druggist a trial quantity of the Remedy—test its efficiency the first time you have the opportunity, so that you may know for yourself and become an enthusiastic convert to the virtue and strength of our marvelous blood remedy—from then on you will refuse to be without it until your cure is effected. Why take chances? Why procrastinate a single day? Act now.

Willie—Ma, can people leave parts of themselves in different places? Ma, no don't be ridiculous, Willie. Well, Mr. Jiggs said he was going to Arizona for his lungs.—Puck.

The minister with his little son Charles, called on an old parishioner, who poured her troubles into his sympathizing ear, ending with the remark, "I've had my nose held to the grindstone for thirty years." Charles, who had been looking intently at the old lady instantly remarked, "Well, it can't worse the mole on the end of it off yet."

I'd rather be a bright boy Than reign a gray-beard king.

—Oliver W. Holmes.

A little boy was fishing, and, drawing in his line, found that the bait had been taken off without result; whereupon he burst into tears and said: "It's cheating."

HELPING HIS MEMORY.

A lawyer in a Western city once went to another part of the country on business. On arriving at his destination, says the Sunday Magazine, he found he had forgotten the name of the firm he had come to see, and had left all enlightening memoranda in his desk.

After wasting valuable time in useless efforts to remember, he telegraphed home to his partner for the necessary information. He got it and more.

"Your business is with Smith & Jones," his partner's message ran. "Your name is Brown."

A DEARTH OF OXYGEN.

The wide-awake student, in his haste, occasionally puts a question which the next minute he might regret. The New York Tribune reminds us of the story of a Harvard instructor who was lecturing on oxygen.

"Oxygen," said he, "is essential to all animal existence. There could be no life without it. Yet, strange to say, it was discovered only a century ago."

"What did they do then, sir," a student asked, "before it was discovered?"

A FOOL AND HIS WISDOM.

A story, which is credited to Major Pond by the New York Tribune, tells of a weak-minded boy who went to the miller's to have some grain ground. The miller said to him:

"So you are a fool, eh?"

"I guess I am," replied the youth.

"A fool, eh? A natural!" mused the miller. "We haven't many natural fools hereabouts. Do you mind if I ask you a few questions?"

"Oh, no, sir, of course not," the lad answered, politely.

"Well, my boy, since you are a fool," began the miller, "I want you to tell me what you know, and afterward what you don't know. Now, to begin, what do you know?"

"I know," said the boy, "that the miller's hogs are fat."

"Good! Very good!" said the miller. "That is what you know. Now tell us what you don't know."

"I don't know whose grain fattens 'em," replied the youth.

MERELY WAITING.

A Northern man who was traveling through the South says the New York Tribune, saw a darkey under a tree by the roadside on the edge of a field of corn. The negro was gazing lazily up through the branches, unmindful of a hoe which lay by his side, and the weeds which grew luxuriantly in the corn field.

"What are you doing?" asked the Northern man.

"Ah'm out heah to hoe dat cohn," replied the darkey.

"Then what are you doing under the tree?" persisted the traveller. "Resting?"

"No, sah, Ah'm not resting," was the drawled-out answer. "Ah'm not tiahed. Ah'm waitin' faw de sun to go down so Ah kin quit wuk."

HOW MANY?

Ten fat pigs and nine fluffy hens— We keep them in coops, we keep them in pens; Eight sleek cows and seven good goats— We keep them in the stable to eat hay and oats; Six little lambs and five white mice— We keep them in the barn, where it's snug and nice; Four gray squirrels and three black bunnies—

We keep them in the shed, where the warm bright sun is; Two striped kittens and one pretty pug— We keep them in the living room to cuddle and to hug.

PROOF OF HIS WORTH.

A year ago a manufacturer hired a boy. For months there was nothing noticeable about the boy, says Leslie's Monthly, except that he never took his eyes off the machine he was running. A few weeks ago the manufacturer looked up from his work to see the boy standing beside his desk.

"What do you want?" he asked.

"Want me pay raised?"

"What are you getting?"

"Three dollars a week."

"Well, how much do you think you are worth?"

"Four dollars."

"You think so, do you?"

"Yessir, an' I've been t'inkin' so for three weeks, but I've been so blame busy I haven't had time to speak to you about it."

The boy got the "raise."

An Animal Story For Little Folks

A Long Headed Dog

Rover had been disturbed long enough. His sleep had been broken constantly for nights by the endless dispute of two big toms that nightly sat upon the wall of his yard and fought it out till morning. He determined the thing should cease.

"I should think you two would get very tired of standing with your backs hitched up like a croquet wicket all night long," he said.

"We do," said the cats, "but don't see how we can well help it. This thing of right of way on that fence has got to be settled somehow."

"HELP! HELP!"

"It must be fought out," said Nibs.

"Of course it must," replied Nobs.

"But that means that we must get our backs up," they said in one breath.

"All right," said Rover. "If it must be, let me give you a fine scheme for holding them up. There are two iron spikes with round knobs on them just over here on this side of the yard. You both jump on these, let your feet hang down on either side, and the iron will hold your backs up."

"Clever! Clever!" said they both.

But when they went to get down neither could move. They couldn't lift up nor move to the side, for the wall was too narrow. Rover had them.

"Help! Help!" they cried.

"On one condition," said Rover.

"We grant it!"

"That you stop this nightly row." "Agreed!" they said. And Rover called the maid, who removed them.—Atlanta Constitution.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

HOW MR. SNAPPER FIXED THE STYLES

Old Mr. Snapper wandered leisurely out of the pond one bright spring morning and made for the back yard of the farmhouse. He had lain in the mud all winter and was now glad of the chance to get out and see something. While he was meditating in his slow fashion as to the probable crop of spring gnats he was startled by loud caterwauls.

He crawled to where the noise seemed to come from, and there, on the top of the chopping block, were Tom and Jerry in a most awful dispute.

"It ought to be six inches, and you know it, you horrid thing," said Tom.

"No, sir, it oughtn't to be but five. That's the style at Newport, and I don't care what you say!" yelled Jerry.

"They're quarrelling about the length of their tails, I do believe," said Snapper to himself. "Did you ever hear anything so stupid? Well, I'll just fix the styles for them myself."

Tom was standing with hatchet raised to cut his tail off at the length he considered fashionable. Jerry's tail was hanging temptingly over the edge of the block. Snapper grabbed the hanging tail in his iron jaws.

HE MADE A LEAP BACKWARD.

"Wow! Kiy! Flizz!" yelled Jerry, and, making a gigantic leap in the air, he knocked the hatchet out of Tom's paws, which, falling on Tom's luckless tail, cut it off about halfway up. He gave a yell of pain and made a leap backward. Jerry made a brave attempt to tear his tail free, but Snapper was too quick for him, and like a pair of scissors his jaws closed on his caudal appendage and severed it completely.

"Oh, oh! What shall we do?" sobbed both kittens as they sat down and looked at their stumps of tails.

"Never mind," said Snapper, crawling up to where they sat. "They're both the same length now."

"That's so. We hadn't thought of that," they said and went on their way sorrowfully.—Worcester Post.

SOME GOOD MEETINGS.

At Carrsville last April a ten days meeting was held this being a mission point—I was assisted by the Rev. M. E. Miller of Kelsey, who did the preaching to the satisfaction and delight of all. A good revival and eight professions were the results of this meeting.

In July I held a meeting at Noel's school house in Livingstone, also a mission point, assisted by Elder R. A. LaRue who did about half of the preaching to the satisfaction and pleasure of all and the writer doing the balance. Good revival and results of this meeting fourteen professions.

In September I held a meeting at Lola Rev. M. E. Miller assisting and the people were much pleased with his sermons there also. Eleven professions and five baptisms were the results of this meeting.

On the fourth Sunday in September I began a meeting at Dyers Hill and was assisted by Rev. C. E. Perryman, who did the preaching and did it well and resulted in seventeen professions and eleven baptisms. The able services of the Bro were much appreciated by all who heard him, pastor and people.

On the fourth Sunday in October I began a meeting at Liberty, Lyon county, which continued thirteen days and was assisted there by the Rev. E. B. Blackburn who did about half of the preaching and pleased the congregation very much. His honest and faithful presentation of the gospel carried conviction to his hearers and was greatly appreciated by the pastor and the people. The writer doing the balance. Results twenty-two professions and thirteen baptisms and four approved for baptism. This was one of the best revivals I have been in for years. W. R. Gibbs.

P. S.—The writer has recently been called to White Sulphur church in Caldwell county and will begin his work there next Saturday and perhaps continue the meeting.

KILLED IN TEXAS.

Dan King Shot and Killed by Sheriff Moore.

The following was sent the Press from Longview, Texas., with the hope that some of the young man's relatives might be located in this county:

"Last Thursday morning at 8:30 Dan King, a white man and stranger, who had been here but a few months, and was employed in Foster & Young's restaurant at the Junction as cook, took $31.55 from the cash register and a large Colt's revolver from a drawer and left.

T. A. Moore who resides one mile east of town was deputized to arrest King on sight.

Friday morning Moore saw King passing his house and commanded him to surrender and give up his pistol, telling a boy named Joe Battle to go and take it from him. King shoved the boy away, at the same time pulling the pistol, which he undoubtedly thought a self action, as he tried to shoot without cocking it. Moore placed a shell in the barrel of his gun and while King was trying to shoot Moore fired, the entire load of No. 6 shot passing through King's heart, causing instant death.

The body was taken to S. C. Forman's undertaking establishment, embalmed and held until Monday and all efforts were used to locate his relatives, but to no avail and the remains were interred at Greenwood cemetery.

Description of dead man: Height 6 feet; weight about 160; age between 35 and 40 years; hair dark brown; very high forehead; a little bald; eyes brown or dark gray.

WANTED

OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION

In Regard to the So-Called "Cabbage Snake" Made by Health Officer.

IT IS PERFECTLY HARMLESS.

Some time ago I began an investigation of the "cabbage snake" but on account of illness I was not able to complete the work and make the results public as early as I hoped to do.

The public has been much disturbed by the sensational reports of newspapers in regard to his snakeship. For the past two months you could scarcely look at the small caliber newspaper from the corner of one eye without seeing some account of the "snake," and some horrible account of a family "sunder in Tennessee" or "over in Illinois," who had been poisoned by it. These reports are pure fabrications, the results of an imaginative mind or for the sake of producing a sensation.

That there is a peculiar parasite infesting the cabbage this year there is no doubt. It is a new species of worm to this State, but old and well understood in many of the Southern states; also in Minnesota. This little parasite has his peculiarities as all other worms do. It is found principally among the loose leaves of the cabbage and is as innocent little creature as ever lived, devoid of all vanity, delicate in his physiognomy, and there is not the slightest trace of poison in his snakeship.

I have taken particular pains to correspond with the authorities in the communities where reports of poisoning by this insect have originated, and in every instance I have been informed that there has been no case from poisoning of any kind in their community, but that they can hear of cases just a "little further off."

I make this statement of facts because I feel that it is my duty as Health Officer to give to the public any and all information at command that pertains to the health and happiness of our people, and you who have cabbage and kraut can eat it, and I will guarantee that it will not harm you unless you eat too much. I would not advise you to eat the "snakes," but should you want to try it you can eat them raw, or cooked, dead or alive, with perfect impunity.

I herewith submit the official report of Dr. Leroy, of Nashville, State Bacteriologist of Tennessee:

"Nashville, Sept. 1, 1904.
"HON. W. W. OGDEN,
"Commissioner of Agriculture,
"Nashville, Tenn.

"Dear Sir: I have the honor herewith to submit my report upon investigations which I have undertaken under your direction, concerning the so-called 'cabbage snakes' which have recently attracted attention in this State. I have obtained a large number of specimens from nearly all parts of the State and find them to be identical. A few specimens of other forms of life have been sent to me in this connection, but these have been well known forms of insects. The 'cabbage snake' has within the last year or so been reported from neighboring States, especially from Georgia, South Carolina and Louisiana, and a large number of articles bearing upon the subject have appeared in the public press.

"The so-called snake belongs to one of the lower orders of the family of Gordiidae, and the individual itself is known scientifically as Mermis Albicans. This animal is neither snake nor insect, but one of the forms of worms. In its adult state it lives upon the cabbage leaf, but does not subsist upon it, so that the cabbage is in no wise injured by its presence. It lays its eggs in large numbers, which eggs are eaten by caterpillars, and in the body of the caterpillar they hatch, forming the embryo worm. These embryos grow at the expense of the caterpillar until they reach sexual maturity, when the body of the caterpillar is ruptured and the worm set free to again live their external adult life. In this way they become quite a factor in the destruction of the caterpillar and are to that extent beneficial to the cabbage crop.

"I have entered into correspondence with localities from which cases of alleged poisoning from the eating of cabbage containing these worms have been reported and find in every case that the reports are without foundation, and that no authentic case can be cited. In order to determine whether or not the worm itself had any poisonous qualities I have carried on an extensive series of experiments upon rabbits, Guinea pigs and domestic animals and find that they can all eat the worms, raw or cooked, with impunity. I have also made extracts from the worms with all the various solvents, which extracts were found to be entirely innocuous, both internally and when injected hypodermically. Believing that possibly these worms might cause decomposition or fermentation in cabbage, with the production of poisonous substances, the result of decomposition, I allowed samples of cabbage, raw and cooked, to decompose in the presence of the worms, and then tested these decomposed substances for poisonous properties as before and found that in no case was any injurious substance produced. I also made chemical analysis of the worms, and products of decomposition and was unable to find any ptomaine or other isolable substances which was toxic in any way. I can, therefore, assure you that this 'cabbage snake' is entirely harmless, and that public rumors and superstitions are fallacies without semblance of foundation.

LOUIS LEROY,
T. ATCHISON FRAZER, M. D.
Health Officer.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The President's Thanksgiving Day Proclamation was issued from the State Department this afternoon by Secretary Hay. It acknowledges the debt of the American people to God for the blessing upon the nation during the past year, in which "reward has waited on honest effort." The proclamation is as follows:

By the President of the United States of America: A Proclamation: It has pleased Almighty God to bring the American people in safety and honor through another year, and, in accordance with the long unbroken custom handed down to us by the forefathers, the time has come when a special day shall be set apart in which to thank Him who holds all nations in the hollow of his hand for the mercies thus vouchsafed to us. During the century and a quarter of our national life, we as a people have been blessed beyond all others, and for this we owe humble and heartfelt thanks to the author of all blessings.

The year that has just closed has been one of peace within our own borders as well as between us and all other nations. The harvests have been abundant, and those who work, whether with hand or brain, are prospering greatly. Reward has awaited on honest effort. We have been enabled to do our duty to ourselves and to others. Never has there been a time when religion and charitable effort has been more evident. Much has been given to us and much will be expected of us. We speak of what has been done by this nation in no spirit of boastfulness or vainglory but with full and reverent realization that our strength is as nothing unless we are helped from above. Hitherto we have been given the heartiest strength to do the tasks allotted to us as they severally arise. We are thankful for all that has been done for us in the past, and we pray that in the future we may be strengthened in the unending struggle to do our duty fearlessly, and honestly, with charity and good will and with respect to our fellow-man. In this great Republic the effort to combine national strength with personal freedom, is being tried on a scale more gigantic than ever before in the world's history. Our success will mean much, not only for ourselves but for the future of all mankind, and every man and woman in our land should feel the grave responsibility resting upon them, for in the last analysis this success must depend upon the high average of our individual citizenship, upon the way in which each of us does his duty to himself and his neighbor.

YOUR KIDNEYS ARE THEY WELL?

Unless they are, good health is impossible.

Every drop of blood in the body passes through and is filtered by healthy kidneys every three minutes. Sound kidneys strain out the impurities from the blood, diseased kidneys do not, hence you are sick. FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE makes the kidneys well so they will eliminate the poisons from the blood. It removes the cause of the many diseases resulting from disordered kidneys which have allowed your whole system to become poisoned.

Rheumatism, Bad Blood, Gout, Gravel, Dropsy, Inflammation of the Bladder, Diabetes and Bright's Disease, and many others, are all due to disordered kidneys. A simple test for kidney disease is to set aside your urine in a bottle or glass for twenty-four hours. If there is a sediment or a cloudy appearance, it indicates that your kidneys are diseased, and unless something is done they become more and more affected until Bright's Disease or Diabetes develops.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE is the only preparation which will positively cure all forms of Kidney and Bladder troubles, and cure you permanently. It is a safe remedy and certain in results.

If You are a sufferer, take FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once. It will make you well.

Some Pronounced Incurable

Mr. G. A. Stillson, a merchant of Tampico, Ill., writes: "FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE is meeting with wonderful success. It has cured some cases here that physicians pronounced incurable. I myself am able to testify to its merits. My face today is a living picture of health and FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE has made it such."

Had Lumbago and Kidney Trouble

Edward Huss, a well known business man of Salisbury, Mo., writes: "I wish to say for the benefit of others, that I was a sufferer from lumbago and kidney trouble, and all the remedies I took gave me no relief. I began to take FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE, and after the use of three bottles I am cured."

Dragging Pains

225 N. Kosley St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe dragging pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had never tried Wine of Cardui. That blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Fish is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

HERE! Here We Are!

THE election is over and some are happy and some are sad, and the main cause of this is some go to Hearin's and buy their goods. They are the happy ones. Others go somewhere else and buy a cheap, inferior article for the same money they pay us for No. 1 good goods. They are the sad ones. Now don't be foolish any longer, but come to us and we will show you the best and largest stock of Groceries ever in one house in Marion, consisting of Glassware, Queensware, Tinware Granite-ware, Wood and Willow Ware, in Canned Goods, Fruits, Vegetables and Meats, Pickles, Sauces and Relishes in Fruits Green Apples, Oranges, Bananas, Lemons and Grapes besides we have all grades of Coffees, Teas, Sugar and Molasses, even the Old Sugar House N. O. Malasses, the kind you had way back in the 50's. A large assortment of the best make of Lamps to select from, and we are sole agents for the celebrated Brown Oil Can, and can fill it with the best oil made for you. We are the people who buy your produce and keep the prices up for you, so bring it to us. Soaps, laundry and toilet, we have all kinds. In Meats and Lard we lead. The Van Kingans Meats are only found at our house, they are the best made. In fact, anything good you want call at Hearin's for it. We received a letter from Santa Claus yesterday and he notified us that as usual he would establish his headquarters at our house again this year. And bear in mind that on the 1st day of January we give away a beautiful $40.00 Range to some good guesser and every dollar in cash you buy from us gives you a guess at this Range. So don't fail to come in and see us. No trouble to show and price our goods and we say no one shall beat us in price, quality considered.

Respectfully,

A. M. Hearin and Son
